STUDY

It's said one never learns what a good student is until he has been one. The excellent grades of the students of the Whitehaven Press are well known. A good student is one who is always learning.

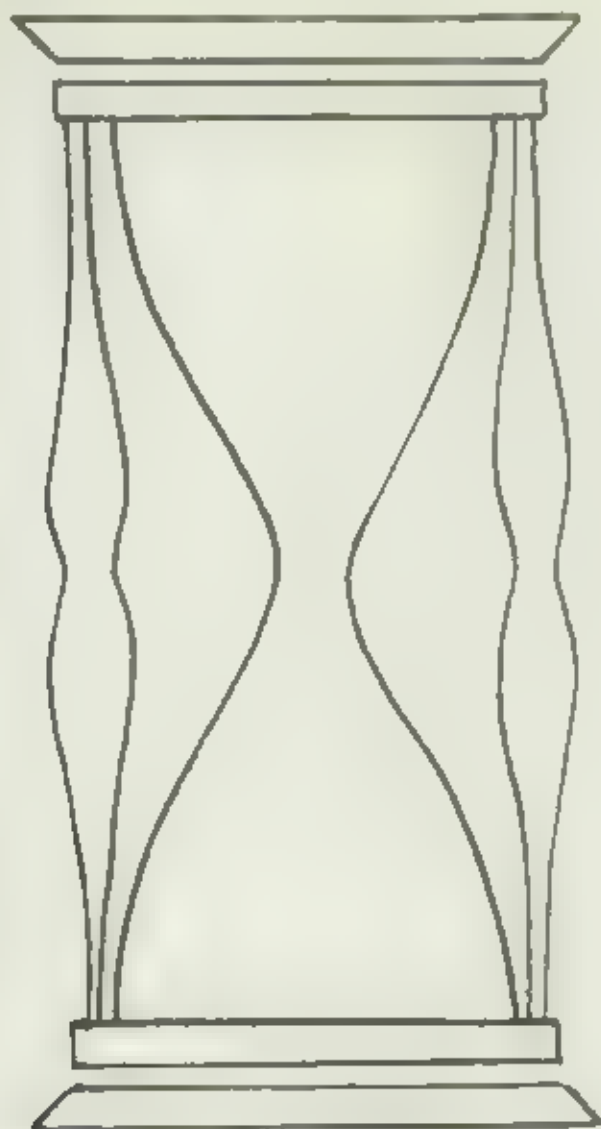

ACTIVITY

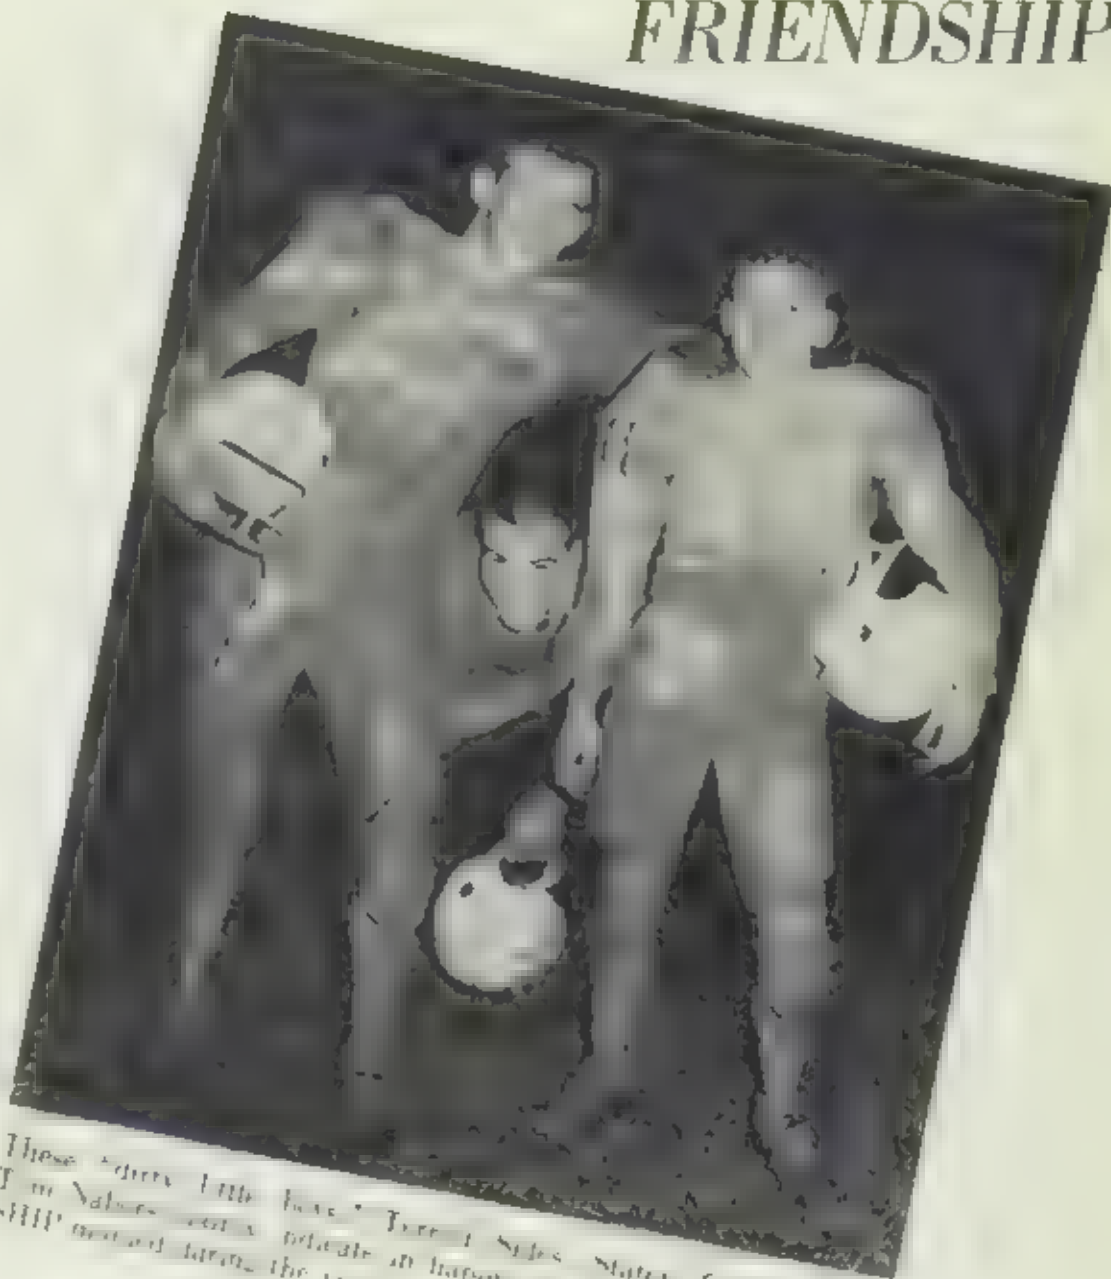

A constant and sometimes frantic ACTIVITY has been the monthly publication of the HAWKEYE by the staff members. Here the staff examines some of the work produced by their printers, the WHITEHAVEN PRESS.

MOMENTS" of . . .

FRIENDSHIP

A school year has many GOLDEN MOMENTS to remember. The MARAUDER Staff of 1961 hopes you will find time in these pages the GOLDEN MOMENTS for you at Oakhaven High School.

These "dinky little boys" Terry Sales, Staton Gresham, and Tim Nalson can indicate in happy expressions their FRIENDSHIP meted during the year.

RELAXATION at Oakhaven takes many forms. A high point of the social season is the annual athletic banquet. This year the banquet was a happy celebration indeed, the senior players realizing that to the first graduation class they have added the distinction of the Shelby County Football Championship.

In his CONCLUSION of the evidence, the writer reports that the front of the car of Sam Price and Jerry Can look does not seem identical with some of the cars which Martin Ray Parker and his associates seem to be driving and attempting to cash.

Curriculum

The primary aim of all students should be to study and learn more about every phase of life. GOLDEN MOMENTS spent in classroom activity with capable guidance by competent teachers will contribute to each person's life long after other memories may have faded

These People Are

Elementary School Principals Mrs. L. Susan Riden works tirelessly to keep the school running smoothly. Mrs. Riden is well known for her dedication to the school and its students.

Mrs. Cheryl Ann H. is the principal and reports that the school is doing well. She is a dedicated educator who works hard to ensure the school is a safe and positive environment for all students.

Serving as Elementary School principal, Mrs. Margaret L. is a dedicated educator who works hard to ensure the school is a safe and positive environment for all students.

Vital to Our School Life

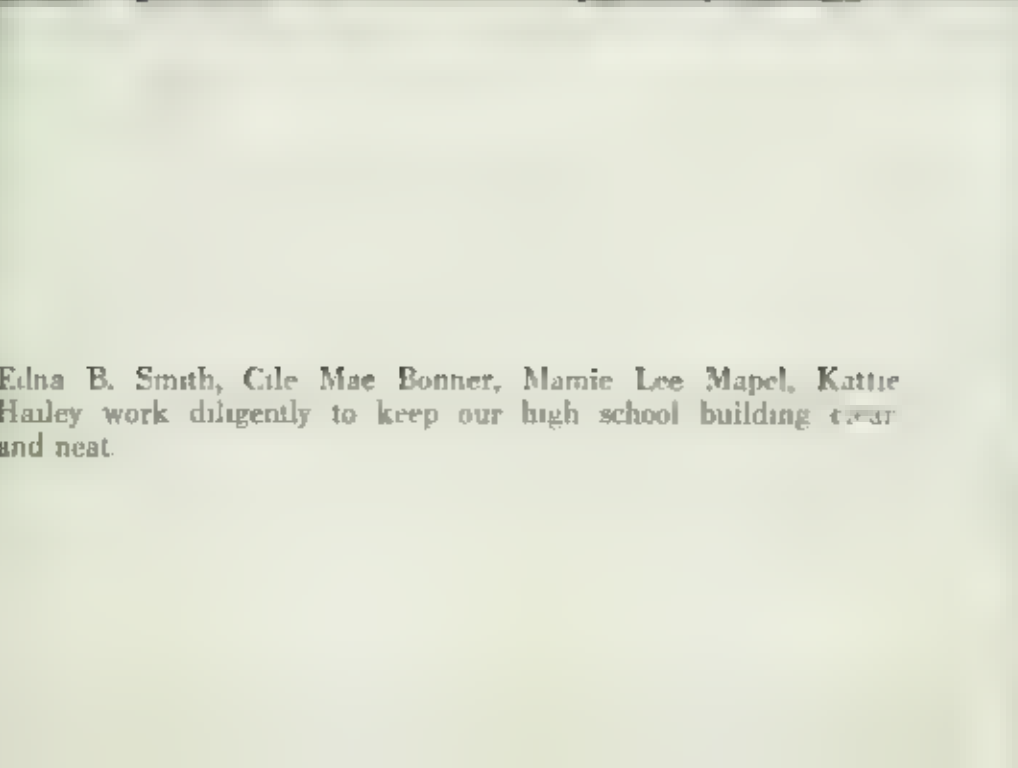

Mrs. Annett Byrnie, Mrs. Floss Yowell, Mrs. Edna White, manager, and Mrs. Emma Vanden store each day give Oakhaven students nourishing, tasty foods.

Elementary Cafeteria manager Mrs. Agnes Bach and her two assistants Mrs. Ann Hathcock and Mrs. Dorothy Beaty prepare nutritious meals for youngsters.

There is always something to be repaired at Oakhaven and here Mr. E. A. Mitchell and Mr. Ernest Smith manage to take care of everything.

Edna B. Smith, Cile Mae Bonner, Mamie Lee Mapel, Katie Hailey work diligently to keep our high school building clear and neat.

English Provides the of These seniors are members of Mrs. Hendren's first period English class. Carol Woodham and the others in the front of the room seem to be enthusiastic about the subject; Johnny Irvine and others in the backgroup, however, seem to be thinking of things other than English.

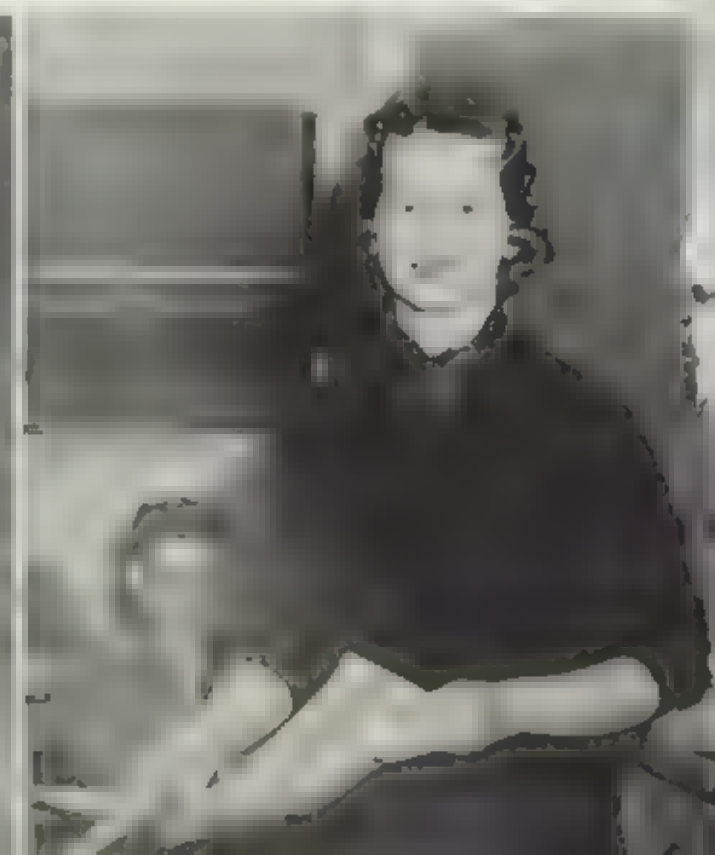

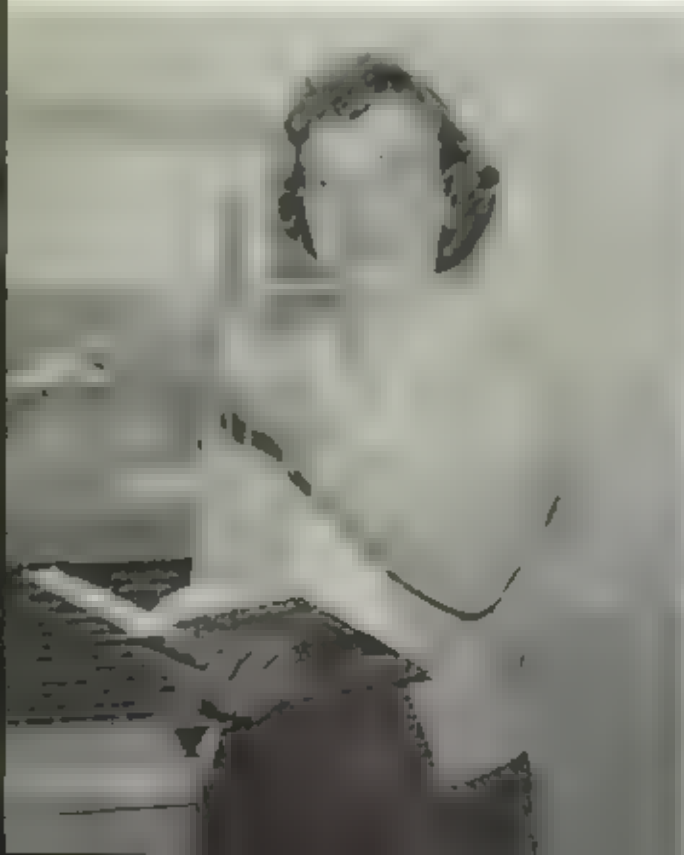

Sure enough! Mr. Hendren has his class at the board diagraming, but he had a little pity and didn't make them do the "Gettysburg Address."

Senior English teacher, Mrs. Mary Anne Hendren, tries to explain some particular point in English literature to an interested inquirer.

Speech and Junior English teacher, Mr. Don Hendren, thinks it would be fun for his class to diagram Lincoln's famous words. Please don't tell him, anyone, that some of his students might disagree.

Mrs. Miriam Fitzpatrick, sophomore English teacher, returns test papers to her students so that they may correct their mistakes.

Instruction Basic Tool Literacy

Mrs. Fitzpatrick's Sophomore English students learn sentence structure and good grammar through diagramming.

Under the direction of Mrs. McKelory, these and all other Freshmen take achievement tests. Every high school student must have an achievement test grade on his permanent record.

All Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors are afforded opportunity for study of English. Oakhaven's capable teachers strive to perfect use of vocabulary, public speaking, sentence and paragraph structure, everyday use of the language, ability in expression, and many other related techniques. Emphasis is also given to the study of American and English literature of all types. In so far as time and facilities permit, the most modern audio-visual methods are practiced to maintain added interest among all students.

Freshmen English students find Mrs. Martha McKelory a capable and understanding teacher.

Social Studies Help Students Gain Insight Into World Affairs and Domestic Relationships

Mr. Jim Anderson and his constant companion, the globe sit on the corner of his desk. Mr. Anderson teaches and sections of American History.

While giving notes to her students about her favorite subject, The Civil War, Mrs. Barker enjoys to receive the reaction of her class.

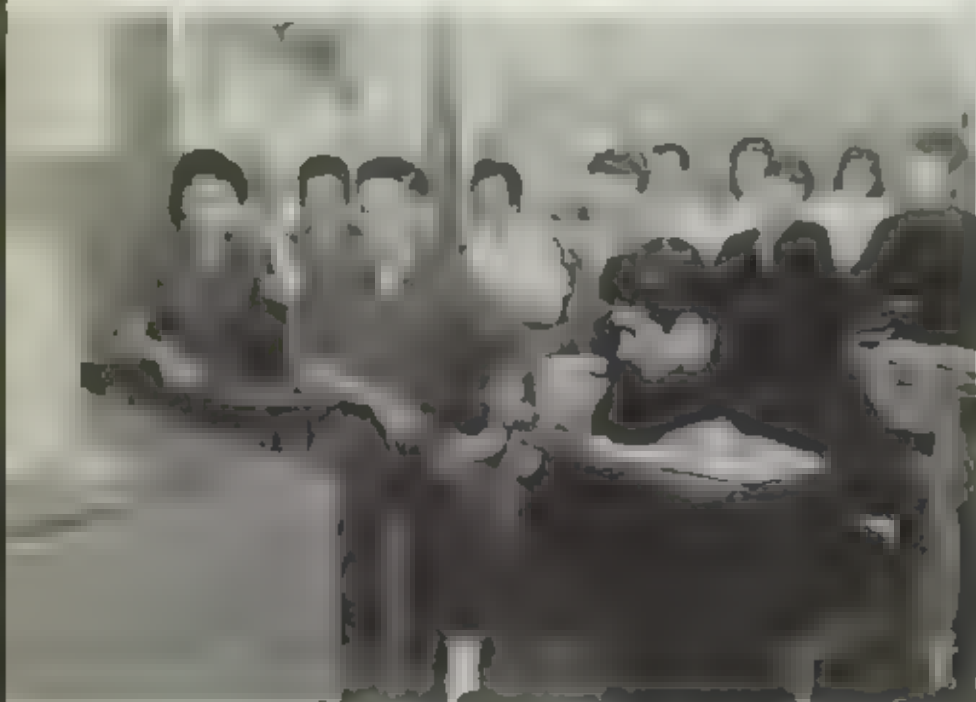

Miss Francis Smith, World History and Modern History instructor, looks up from her grade book to give her ready smile.

Courses in Civics, Modern History, World History and American History constitute Oakhaven's Social Studies department. Close study of the past as well as keen observation of current affairs help students to prepare for living in a modern complex society.

Civics students are participating in study in Mrs. Barker's class. Some of the students seem to find something interesting in their discussion.

Mr. Anderson's fourth period American History class is in "eyewitness to history" as they watch the inauguration of President John F. Kennedy.

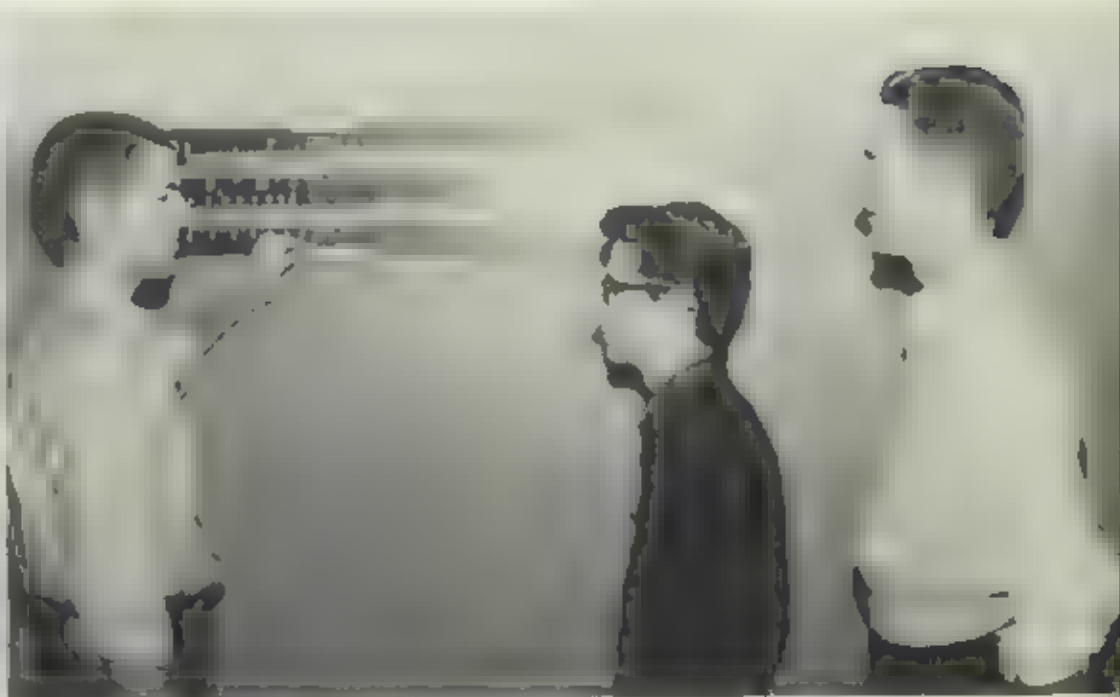

Most of Miss Francis Smith's World History students agree that they amass a great deal of information by taking notes and studying their text books.

Mathematics Students Prepare for Future Service

Mr. Codner's sixth period Algebra I class is infamous for its rascality, but his students learn along with the fun they have. These students don't even seem to be cold.

The slide rule is a new instrument in the math classes. Here it is demonstrated in Mrs. Riley's room by Jackie Grisham to Claude Runsey and Jimmy Stafford.

At a time when mathematicians are badly needed in today's world, our teachers offer instruction in basic skills of mathematics as well as in the more advanced areas. General Mathematics, Algebra, Plane Geometry, Trigonometry, and Solid Geometry, all have many interested students learning fundamentals. Mathematic instruction offered at Oakhaven provides adequate basic, usable knowledge for those who do not plan to pursue its study further, and very good foundation for those who seek further, more advanced understanding of various aspects of mathematics.

Learning to read and interpret graphs is absolutely essential in studying mathematics. These students at Mrs. Dawson's try helping each other in their study.

There's one thing everyone knows about Mr. Eugene Codner. He likes fresh air! However, his Solid Geometry, Trigonometry, Plane Geometry, and Algebra students do learn in this chilly environment.

Federal funds buy invaluable equipment used in mathematics instruction by Mrs. Sarah Roy, second year Algebra and Plane Geometry teacher.

Mrs. Geraldine Dawson seems glad that she has no more Mathematics and Algebra classes to teach for the day.

Modern Linguists Endeavor to Master Foreign Tongues

Drill on Latin verb conjugation is absolutely necessary in acquiring knowledge of the language.

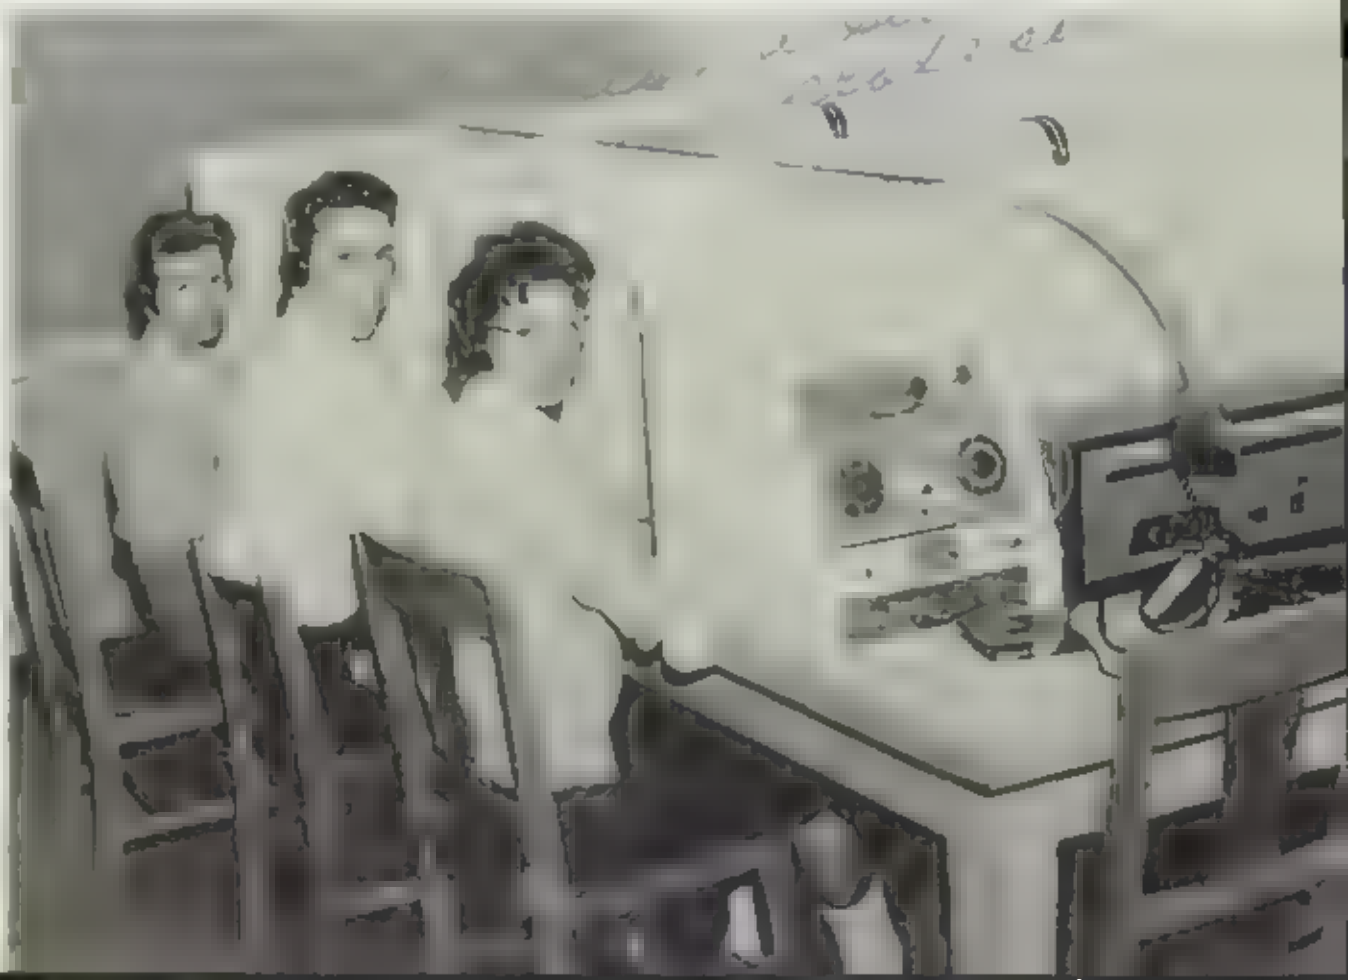

The mimeograph machine is faithful to its duties even when Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, who "hates those machines" anyway runs off Latin test.

Mrs. Carol Redd, French and Spanish instructor, finds her teaching much easier and more effective since the installation of the language laboratory.

Language students may receive credit in Latin, Spanish, and French. In all these areas attention is given to building vocabulary, mastering grammar and explaining customs of foreign lands. French and Spanish students are particularly fortunate in having a language laboratory for use in improving conversation abilities.

The newest innovation, a language conversation lab is helping French and Spanish students correct their own pronunciation.

Scientific Knowledge Opens New Vistas and New Horizons

Senior Physics students find natural physical laws fascinating in their varied experiments.

General Science, Biology, Chemistry, and Physics are offered to students with particular scientific inclinations. In each of these, laboratory experiences, as well as class instruction, help students understand the principles of natural law and phenomena. Because our world needs many well-trained scientists, instructors do their best to contribute young scientists with good foundations.

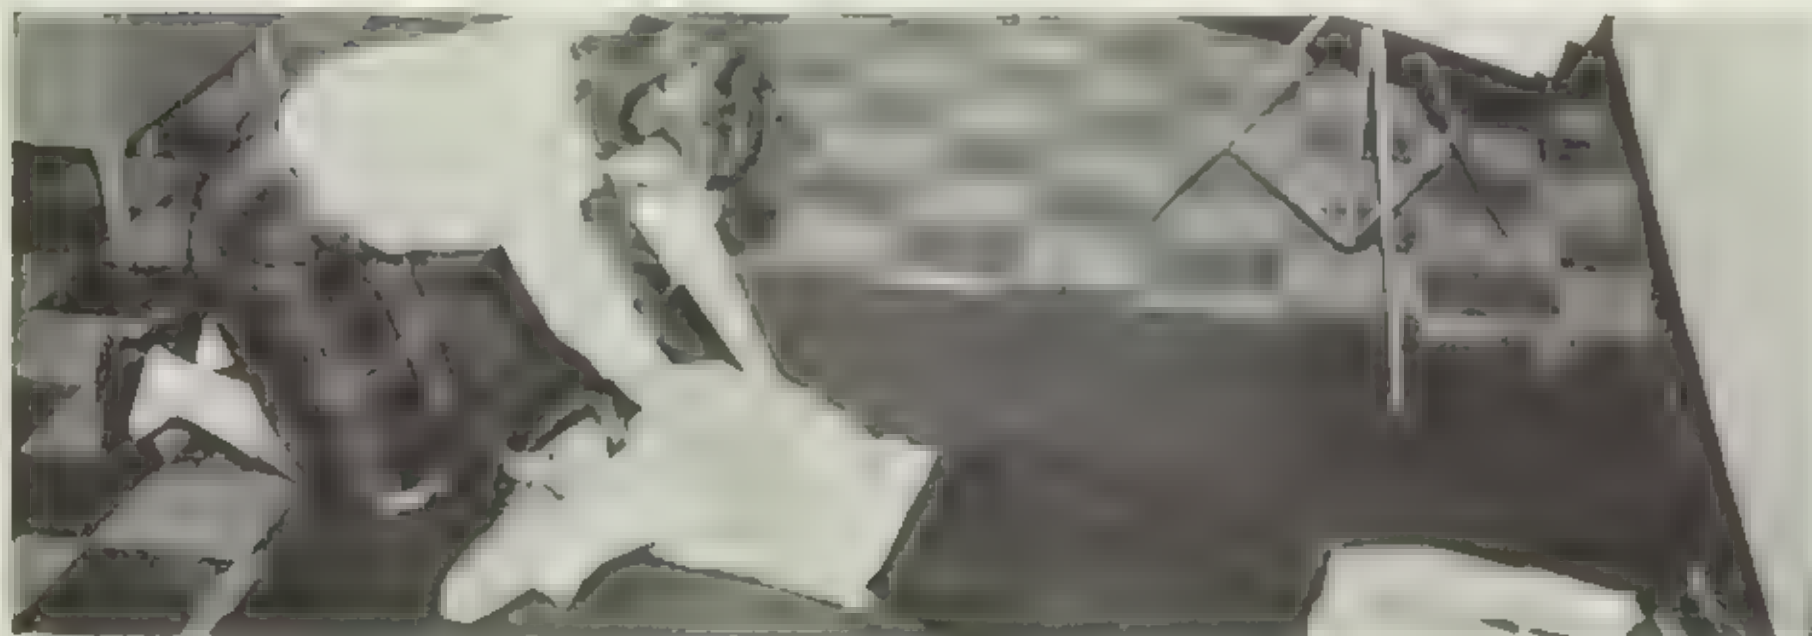

The Science store room is kept in good order by Mr. Leon Burns, Chemistry and Physics instructor.

This excellent butterfly collection is displayed by Mrs. Marie Humphries in one of her Biology classes. Mrs. Humphries also teaches General Science.

There is something on that slide! I know there is! Biology students profit greatly from being able to study many cells and other living things, not visible to the eye but quite easily seen under the microscope.

Physical Education Brings About Better Body Discipline and Physical Fitness

Physical education for girls is not all exercises and basketball. They also learn tenets of hygiene and first aid. Here two girls demonstrate one position used in artificial respiration.

The school students of Tennessee are required to attend compulsory Physical Education for two years. At Oakhaven, classes are enlivened by team play in volleyball, basketball, baseball, and softball. Other activities such as tumbling, weight lifting, track, and other exercises and sports develop sound and soundly. The program instructors are vitally concerned with the development of physical strength and structure for later life as well as with the perfection of particular athletic skills.

Coach Carter Brown, teaching boys Physical Education. Coach Carter Brown ably acts as Varsity basketball coach, giving many valuable pointers and advice.

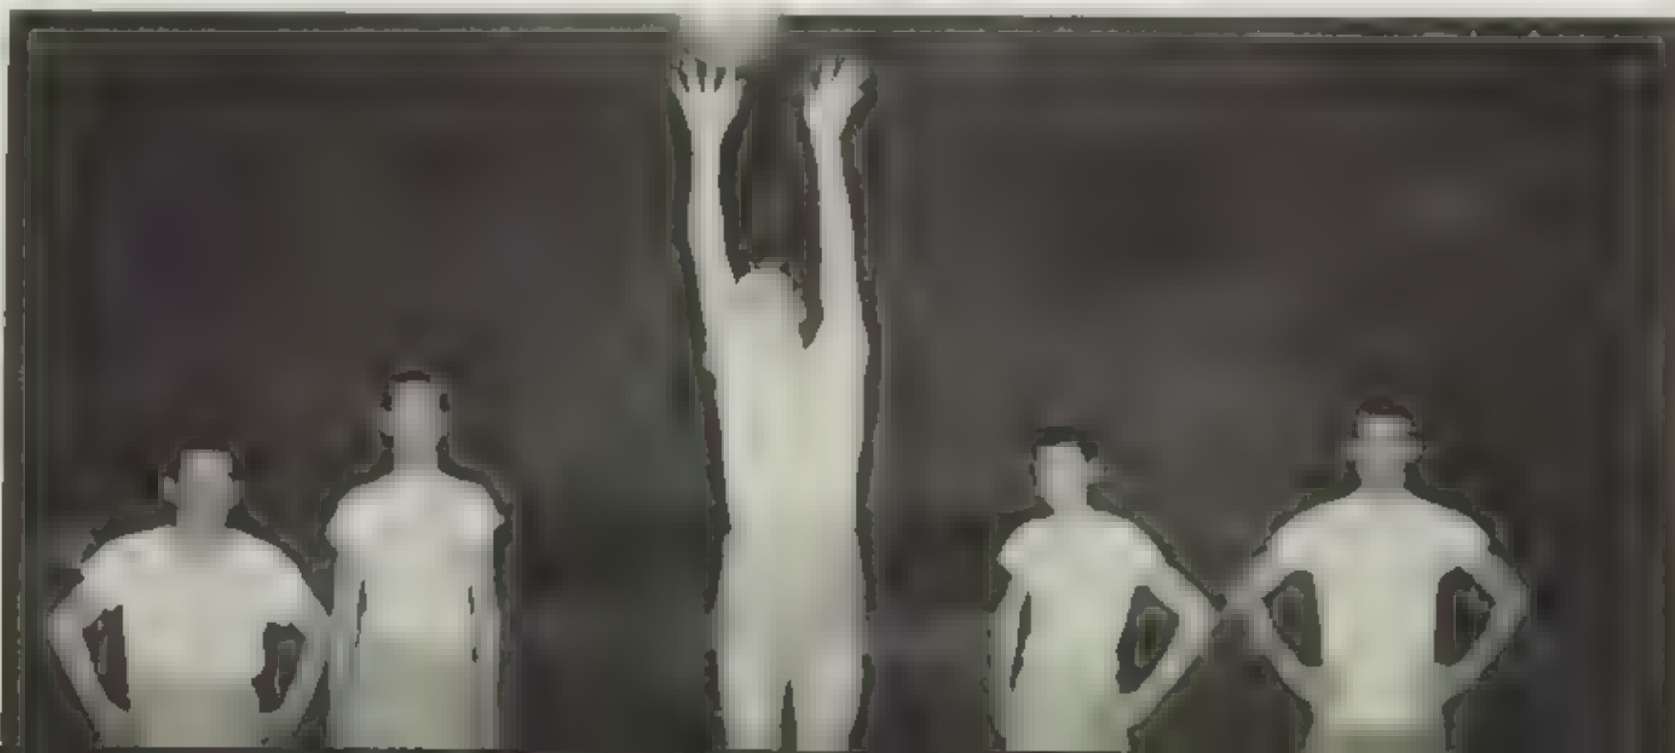

As well as acting her job of teaching Physical Education to girls, Miss Ruby Clift also runs the school bookstore every morning. Miss Clift has a reputation for being a very efficient and energetic teacher.

Miss Ruby Clift as physical education teacher to the boys during the Physical Fitness Tests.

Basketball is one of the favorite sports of the boys. Each year class winners compete in an intramural tournament which is attended by many of the faculty and boys.

Home Economics Promotes Better Living

These Freshmen girls are very industriously working in Mrs. Williamson's Home Economics class. Sewing is a good part of the year while cooking is taught the remainder of the year.

By teaching the basic skills of homemaking, sewing, cooking, meal planning, child care, clothes selection and budget management, Home Economics are providing many girls three most helpful and profitable years of study. In addition various activities such as fashion shows, teas and banquets, are part of these girls' study of Home Economics. It is believed that good homemakers can and should be a most important aspect of our nation's future.

A teacher can tell people how, but she can show them much more accurately, particularly when she teaches Home Economics as Mrs. Nedda Wilson does.

Teaching Freshmen how to sew is a good lesson which requires much demonstration from Mrs. Betty Williamson, one of our Home Economics teachers.

Young ladies taking Home Economics are given opportunity for practical experience in preparing meals.

A typical bookkeeping ledger sheet is explained by Miss Ruby Scott to her Bookkeeping classes in an effort to assure their proper training in keeping accounts.

Shorthand characters are strange looking creatures to those of us who don't know them; but Mrs. Louise Smith seeks to see that her classes receive adequate understanding of them.

Included in Business Education at Oakhaven are Typing, Shorthand, and Bookkeeping. Fundamental understanding and practical application of all these subjects are emphasized by instructors. For those who do not plan further education, career opportunities are increased by development of skill in these three important areas.

Business Education Stimulates

Clerical Minded Students

Bookkeeping students learn how very much is involved in keeping an accurate record of accounts. However, this knowledge will prove to be essential in future years.

Preparing for possible stenographic careers, Oakhaven girls find Shorthand a most interesting but demanding study. Taking dictation is one of their best ways to practice their knowledge.

Our photographer captures a characteristic pose of Mrs. Ann Wedge, our Art instructor, perched on her stool with her pencils, pens and brushes ever ready, nestled securely in her hair.

Demonstrating the use of various machines in one of the many tasks performed by Mr. Townsend as an Industrial Arts teacher.

Mr. Rex Hart, Industrial Arts teacher, must work constantly to keep the tool room in order.

Special Talents and Interests are Encouraged and Developed by Arts and Industrial Arts

Although students have had a chance for only one year of art instruction, our Art department has made phenomenal strides in perfecting individual talents. Awards were made to three students in the annual Scholastic Art Awards, and entries were placed in competition in New York City.

Industrial Arts teachers instruct boys in General Shop, Woodworking, and Mechanical Drawing and thus fulfill particular interests among various students. An almost new building, equipped with modern machinery serves many young men quite well as it affords them opportunities for acquiring certain techniques.

These boys, Members of Mr. Townsend's mechanical drawing class, learn design and architectural structure under their teacher's able guidance.

Carefully, Shop students measure and cut boards to be used in one of their numerous projects. Many beautiful pieces of furniture and bric-a-brac are made by these and other boys in Industrial Arts classes.

The neatest, most original displays at Oakhaven may be seen on the down stairs bulletin board. Art classes work diligently to prepare these most attractive arrangements, such as this one for Thanksgiving.

Our Pleasant Comprehensive Library Attracts Many Students

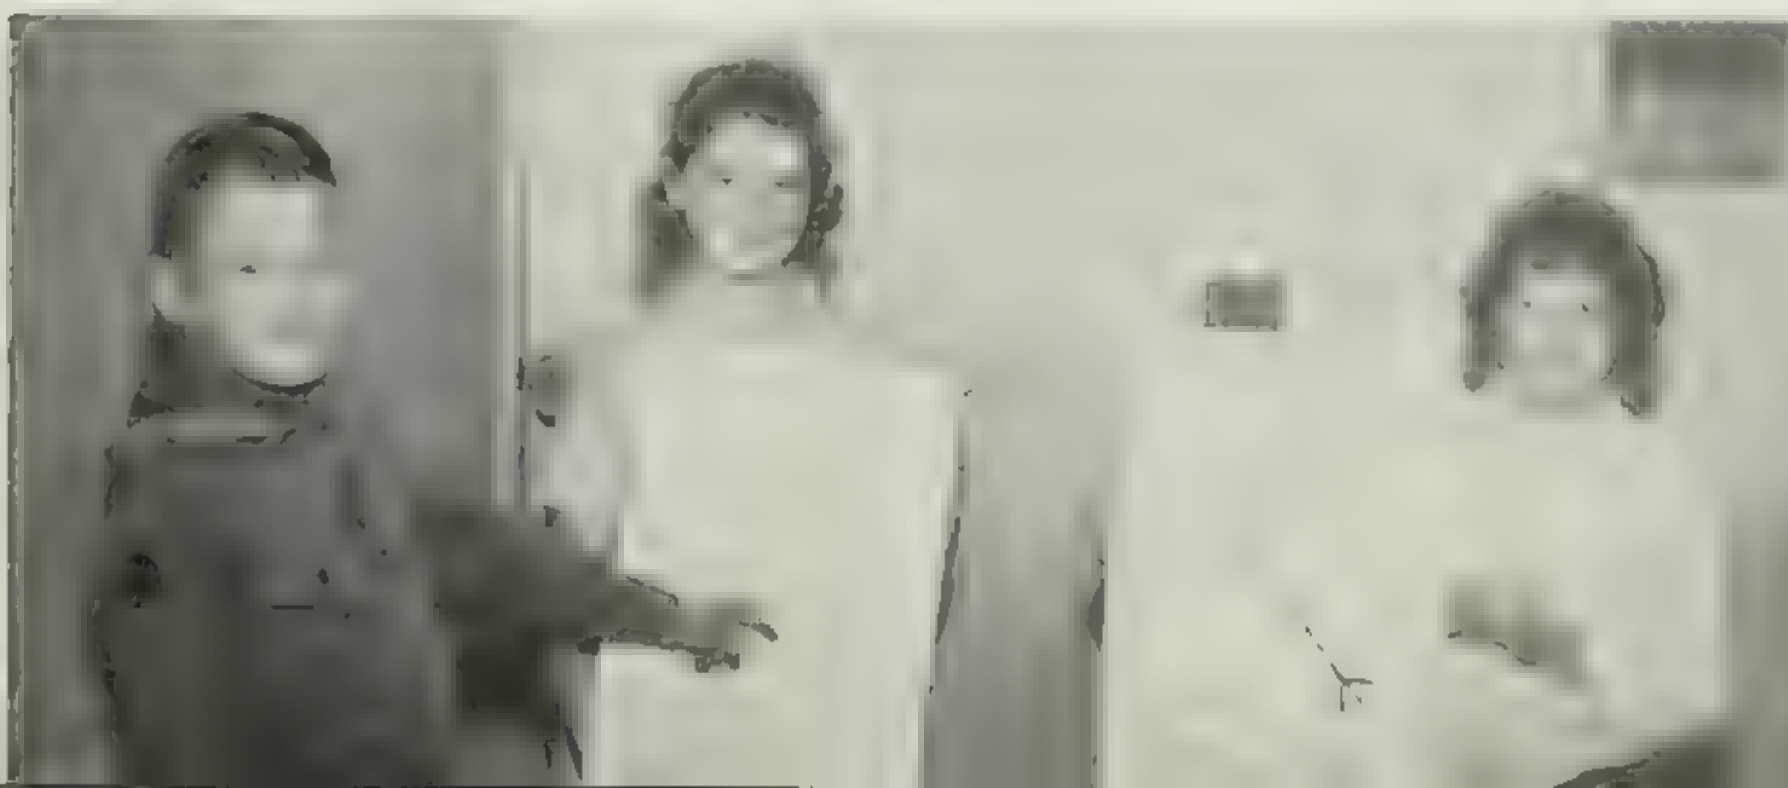

A most helpful volume in Oakhaven's library is the Webster's Unabridged Dictionary. Sherry Clinton seems to be helping Jamie Denny find a word encountered in his study.

An endless task for Mrs. Virginia Hulme, librarian, is the typing of new catalogue cards.

Reference materials, periodicals, fiction, non-fiction, journals and newspapers provide a wealth of material to be explored by students. Efforts are also being made to increase and improve our library facilities and resources. Most students seem to realize the extremely necessary role our library plays in our school program and try to use it to their fullest advantage.

Mrs. Beach's seventh graders have brought a geography to life in their study of ranching around the world. Here Bill May, Sandra McBroom, and Sue Peck display typical brands used by stockmen everywhere.

Seventh Graders Are Given a Wide Scope of Instruction

A teacher has many responsibilities which are not always obvious. Mrs. Gertrude Beach is one of the best of them, as seventh grade teacher.

Mr. Oscar Smith, English teacher, knows the value of individual instruction.

Mr. Max Browder, one of the Junior High school's favorite teachers, waits in the lunch line with some of his smiling students. Mr. Browder teaches the Seventh Grade.

Mrs. Patricia Smith, social studies teacher, is a woman who knows her job. A teacher has to keep everything in order to keep everything in order.

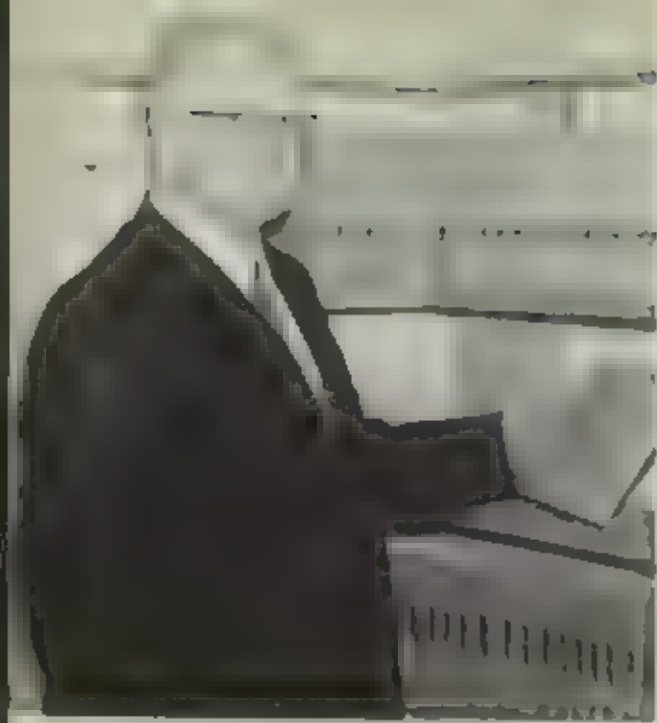

Mr. Roger Bennett, English teacher, is a man who knows his job. Mr. Bennett is well regarded by his students.

Oakhaven's Seventh Grade students led by their capable teachers are involved in the pursuit of knowledge in many and varied fields—such as English grammar, Reading, Mathematics, Spelling, Penmanship, Science, Physical Education and Art.

"I Pledge Allegiance to the Flag" . . . Seventh Grade students also learn loyalty to country and flag as they study "Reading", "Rhythm", and "Rhythmic".

The Final Year Before Eighth Grade Students in Many

One of Mr. V. H. Rose's after-school hours is keeping the library of books checked out for the term. It is a very busy and demanding task and is performed by Mr. Rose, an Eighth Grade teacher.

Mrs. Sallye Burns, eighth

This must be a good note-book Mrs.

teacher, is grading, she looks so obviously pleased.

English study is quite interesting when the course is enlivened by attractive bulletin boards. Mrs.
Borsvert's students take a look at a characterization of Ichabod Crane.

Not only Seniors, but also eighth grade study American

GOLDEN MOMENTS — What are they to each person? Club activities, sock hops, formal dances, Christmas parties, basketball games, journalism work, class meetings, pep rallies, parades? Perhaps all of these and many more are GOLDEN MOMENTS in your memory of wonderful years at Oakhaven.

We have an idea that Ronnie Bramley, our ever faithful photographer, posed this picture so there would be at least one of him in the annual. Paul looks as though he might not be successful in getting the hot dog away from Ronnie, who has the advantage of a better mouth. Charles Davis seems to think it would be easier to be content with a mere marshmallow, while there are just no words worthy to be used in describing Staten Grisham

Senior girls find the physical fitness tests given to all students quite an ordeal since they do not take physical education, but even the memories of all that "unwanted exercise" are among those we will never lose

"O" Club members often view films in their meetings held once each month. Members find these films instructional as well as quite interesting

"GOLDEN MOMENTS" . . .

We'll never forget how much we all felt like "tripping the light fantastic" after the great victory over Whitehaven's Terrors.

Everyone else seemed excitedly packed up to ride in Linda Green's car for the Whitehaven parade except Larry Carlisle, who was much more interested in eating that ice cream sandwich.

The women's High School faculty basketball game with the elementary faculty presented a very different view of teachers from the one most students get each day. However, every one, even the teachers, enjoyed the game tremendously.

One of the women who the church met, during the winter months, to meet in some place to that they could talk.

We were there when we met Mr. Callan and they were very kind to us and they were very kind to us and they were very kind to us and they were very kind to us and they were very kind to us

Day after day we found these new houses to be in poverty here.
We gripe and complain at what they have to do.

They both say that these things are strange about the States and that they have to go about to get down the things that were taken.

More!

A member of the Hunter class and Charles Davis will admit the supplies to be loaded into the truck. Charles seems to have a good idea of it.

Perhaps the most time consuming job in preparing to present a play is the design and construction of costumes and props. Mr. Hendon and his Speech classes design and make each costume or drape with such painstaking care that they are justly proud when the final production is presented.

The Senior Class gave a Heart Party in honor of the seniors. Every one agreed that the music and refreshments were excellent. All prizes and prizes were given a large crowd.

This year the HAWKEYE succeeded in fulfilling its dream of having a printed newspaper. The "dream come true," however, presented several problems for the HAWKEYE staff. First came the selling of advertisements to provide the money needed to pay for printing. The ads were secured after much hard work on the part of the staff.

With a printed paper in the making, pictures were needed to cover space and to add to the attraction of the newspaper. The discovering of Ronnie Bramley helped solve this problem. He spent hours making and developing various photographs to accompany the news and advertisements.

Next came the correcting, rewriting, and typing of the articles in preparation for the trip to the Whitehaven Press. Ernestine McCall, the editor, probably has many fond and frustrated memories about those last minute details before the HAWKEYE's final trip to the press.

After much labor in getting the HAWKEYE prepared and finally printed, there came the sitting up nights to fold the paper - but this was not the only remaining worry! There were papers to be sold, money to be counted, and a few strings to be pulled in order to make the ends and editors meet.

Each student will have memories of the good times and new experiences that - along with a little hard work and the resulting accomplishments. These recollections will include a trip to the Journalism Clinic at a visit to the Commercial Appeal. The HAWKEYE sponsored a faculty basketball game between the ladies of the high school and those of the elementary school. Besides many laughs and jokes this game also brought about a few bumps and bruises.

National Beta Club Stands for Improved Scholarship, Character, Service

The key ceremony was used in 1961's Beta Club Induction. President Staten Grisham gives the key of service to Doreen Campbell. The new members are: P. Newland, Carolyn Fitts, Elaine Wood, Patricia Newland, Doreen Campbell, Sandra Parker, Drucilla Palmer, Anola Baggett, Patricia Pannell, Carol Thweatt, and Patricia Long.

Because of outstanding character and achievement, several students were selected for membership in the National Beta Club. These new members were inducted on February 16. The program presented the ideas representing the Beta standards. This club was organized to stimulate effort, reward achievement and to encourage and assist those students who have shown their character and leadership qualities through high academic accomplishments.

Each year the club sends several members to the convention in Nashville. One of their supporting projects was the sale of Oakhaven stickers.

They are under the capable leadership of President, Staten Grisham; Vice President, Tom Nelson; Secretary, Linda Staples; and Treasurer, Betty Ford. They are sponsored by Mrs. Sarah Riley.

The Science Club eagerly worked on various money raising projects, including the sale of candy and the sale of socks bearing a hawk emblem. These projects were to provide cash awards for the Annual Science Fair of the school. One of the Club's duties is to take charge of, display, and arrange for the judging of the various exhibits displayed in this fair. Its foremost goal for several years was fulfilled this year when Savings Bonds were awarded to the top winners. The main purpose of the club, promoting scientific activities of students who have an eager interest in the fields of science, is accomplished through this main project. The Junior Academy of Science is opening a door through which they can obtain more knowledge in research work to bring back to the club.

Their officers: President, Howard Crowson; Vice President, Conrad Hadaway; Secretary, Anola Baggett; Treasurer, LaNeda Miller; Reporter, Elaine Wood, are capably carrying out the business of the club. Mrs. Humphries and Mr. Burns, the sponsors, look to the future of the club with anticipation.

Each year the Math Club, sponsored by Mrs. Riley and the two new additions to our Math department, Mrs. Dawson and Mr. Codner, conduct a Mathematics tournament which is held to determine local winners and to choose entrants for the state examination. This tournament is to advance their purpose, which is to promote an interest in Mathematics and an understanding of the part it plays in everyday life.

The day of the gladiator is relived in a conversation among the J.C.L. Latin Club officers. Beverly Brigham and Diane Richardson look on in interest as Claude Rumsey and Lana Hamberlin find amusement in the gladiator and Dottie Campbell's factual information.

The Oakhaven Chapter of the Junior Classical League (J.C.L.) purposes are to aid, interest and better the understanding of classical languages and customs, to create fellowship among students and to be of service to the school in various ways. The club strives to create an interest in the literature of Latin, but more in the knowledge of its authors.

The annual Roman banquet is a typically enjoyable example of learning the customs of a Roman meal. Latin Club members found the custom of dining while reclining on couches during the meals most enlightening. Service projects have been found pleasing and profitable for the club. A yearly project is to aid students and faculty in easily locating the home addresses and phone numbers of each student by the publication of a High School Directory. The club is extremely proud of an honor brought home from the Tennessee Latin Club Convention last year. They nominated Tom Nabors for the office of Vice President of the Tennessee J.C.L. and captured the office with the highest attendance present from any club.

The officers, President, Claude Rumsey; Vice President, Lana Hamberlin; Secretary, Dottie Campbell; Treasurer, Beverly Brigham; Historian, Diane Richardson, find their duties numerous and demanding.

The Modern Language Club, a new-comer to the Oakhaven scene, came into being when the already existing Spanish Club decided to incorporate into its structure those students who were beginning the study of French, a subject new to Oakhaven's curriculum this year. Under the capable and inspiring guidance of their teacher, Mrs. Carol Redd, the students of the two languages are attempting to promote a better understanding of the people and customs of all Spanish-speaking and French-speaking countries.

In keeping with their goals of furthering international understanding, the students of French transformed, for one unforgettably authentic evening, the high school cafeteria into a sidewalk cafe, using as the theme for their presentation "An Evening in Paris." The romantic atmosphere was completed when French food was served by waitresses authentically dressed. Also present were a typical struggling artist of the French streets and an apache dancer.

The officers of this club are Ronnie Bramley, President; Jackie Graham, Vice President; Wanda Mangrum, Secretary, and Sherry Naxon, Treasurer.

"Lead us toward homes where living will be the expression of everything good and fair, Homes where truth and love and security and faith Will be realities, not dreams."

The Future Homemakers of America is the national organization of students studying homemaking in junior and senior high school. This youth organization has certain unusual features. It provides opportunities for developing individual and group initiative in planning and carrying out activities related to the home. It provides instructions in homemaking as related to several fields. Each year the Oakhaven chapter sends two representatives to the F.H.A. national convention held in Nashville. Six of their members earned their junior degrees and one was awarded a chapter degree.

Their officers are President, Jean Reedy; Vice President, Sandra Force; Secretary, Shirley Howell; Reporter, Betty Hurly.

The dignified "front" of Speech and English teacher is completely destroyed as Mr. Hendren gives his natural personality. One of Oakhaven's most lovable persons, he always finds time to relax and joke with his students.

The attractive and very attractive advertisement for the play was designed and displayed by the Art Department.

In a secluded corner of Elsinore's throne room, Hamlet speaks privately with Ophelia. The scene would have attracted a full house not been for the untimely death of Hamlet's father.

Make-up time is frantic for the Oakleaf Players. Thursday is soon to be the time for the play, and always starts in time. Everyone thinks Wayne Jones' garter is just too too clean.

Accomplish the Impossible of "Jesus of Nazareth" and "Hamlet"

"Suffer the little children to come unto me," Jesus said to his disciples

Nazareth

It looks as though J. C. Boster is worried about remembering his lines as he sits studying on a "prop" table. The character lines on his forehead seem to emphasize his concern.

John Lyne smiles patiently at the coming as he is subject to the indignity of being bearded by Mr. Hendren. We can hear thoughts of "If this dang thing doesn't stick, I'm going to pinch your head," running through the director's mind

"The play"- the thing wherein we'll catch the conscience of the king." Here is a play within a play. Because of the play, Hamlet was convinced that Claudius was the murderer of his father.

The death of her father, Polonius, is the cause of Ophelia's madness. Laertes, her brother, is grief-stricken at this sight as Hamlet stands silently by.

The Oakleaf Players is an organization of these students at Oakhaven interested in Speech and Dramatics.

Hamlet and Jesus of Nazareth are the two classic productions which will remain in the history of Oakhaven as a result of the work of this club during 1960-1961. Under the direction of Don E. Hendren, the club has received acclaim throughout the county and the city for its remarkable results with a little material and a lot of work.

A formal constitution was adopted after an extensive study of parliamentary procedure. The officers elected were President, Jamie Arndt, Vice President, Frank Woods, Secretary, Carol Woodham, Treasurer Larry Carlisle and Parliamentarians Linda Staples and Bonnie Hardy.

Oakhavens Newest Club Promotes

Art Appreciation

These leaders of the art appreciation club are proud of the Hawk mosaic created by their club.

The purposes of the Art Club are (1) to promote an interest in art activities in the school and the community, (2) to enable outstanding art students to have further instruction in other art areas, (3) to promote an appreciation of art and beauty in everyday surroundings as well as in the classic works of art.

They are responsible for the outstanding hall bulletin boards as well as the creation of a beautiful mosaic of the Hawk in the art room. They willingly aid other organizations with the necessary art works such as posters, programs, placecards, and drawings for the newspaper. They had three blue-ribbon, gold-key finalists whose work will be sent to New York to compete in the National Awards. Mrs. Ann Weigel, their sponsor, has worked continuously to make the first year of this club outstanding in work and achievements.

Their officers are Donna Henley, President; Bill Shelton, Vice President; Brenda McIntosh, Secretary; Judy Chappell, Treasurer; Jim Harder and Eddie Hood, Sergeants-at-Arms.

We welcome one of Oakhaven's newest clubs, the Library Club. It is an organization of those interested in the functions of a library and the work it accomplishes. Many of the members hope someday to be professional librarians.

They have accelerated the interest of the students in our library by promoting National Book Week, November 13-19. They worked hard making posters and giving individual speeches to homerooms on the various types of books that are available in the library.

The officers of the club are Phyllis Tucker, President; Martha McCall, Vice President; Jean Reedy, Secretary-Treasurer; Elaine Wood, Reporter. They are sponsored by Mrs. Hulme, the school librarian.

The observance of National Book Week was made effective through the efforts of the Library Club. Here, Phyllis Tucker and Elaine Wood hang a poster displaying the covers of new books received by the library.

Y-Teens Strive to Apply Christian Principles to Daily Life

The Y-Teens officers, Delores Ferrell, Gail Merrell, Jane Clay, Glenda Hawkins, and Glenda Ferguson plan for the next big event.

This year was the second in which this club has served Oakhaven. Its task is bringing the members to realize in their common life those ideals of personal and social living to which Christians are committed. It has one of the largest memberships in Oakhaven and competes heavily for the most popular among the girls here.

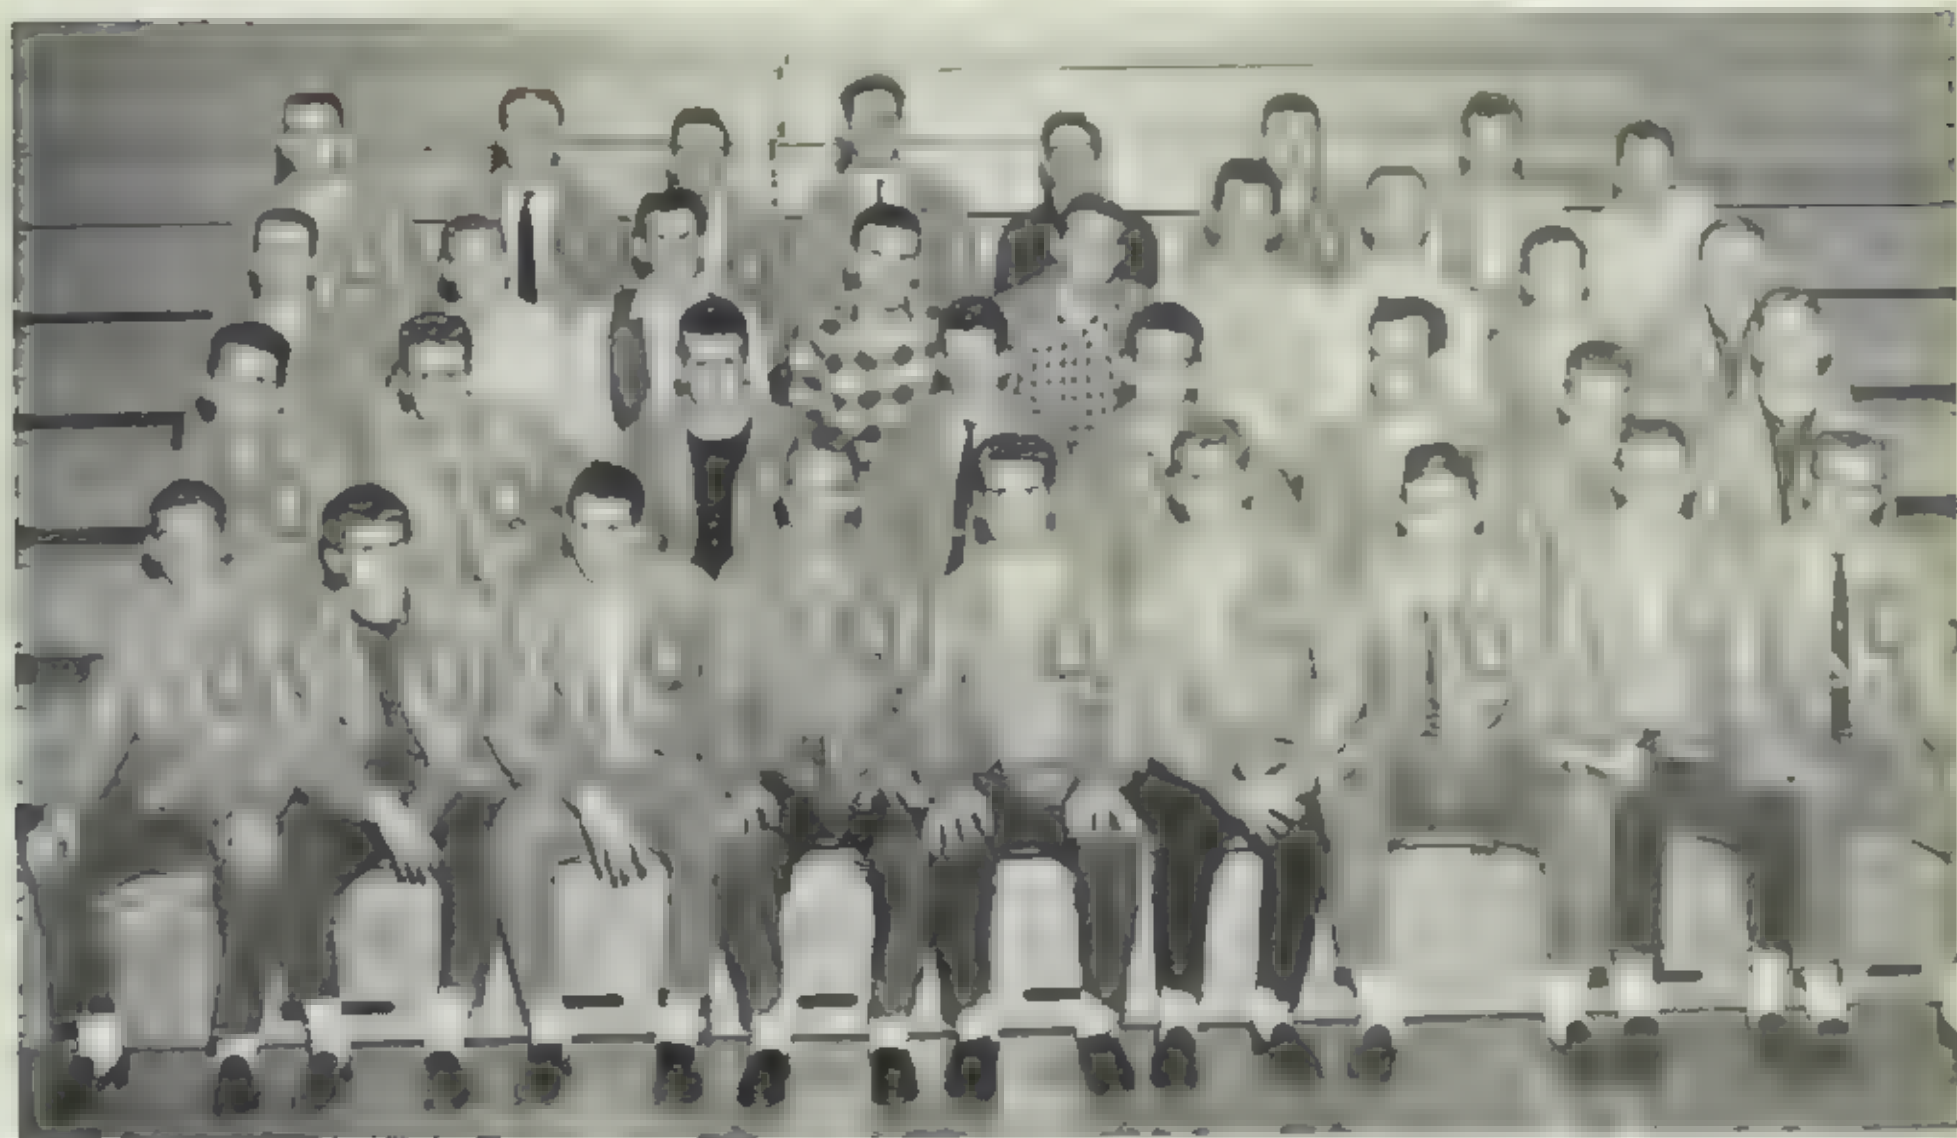

Its popularity with the boys was firmly established when they were invited to attend the "BL AT" beatnik party they gave. Their finances were padded with the revenue gained from the enthusiastic sale of Potato Chips, Oakhaven sweat shirts, and a fashion show on March 3.

They also sponsor both a basketball and volleyball team. The officers are Jane Clay, President; Betty Jane Wray, Vice President; Glenda Hawkins, Treasurer; Glenda Smith, Reporter; Delores Ferrell, Parliamentarian. They are sponsored by Miss Clift, who backs them in all their undertakings.

Some of the most outstanding GOLDEN MOMENTS of 1960-61 were connected with sporting events. Spectators and players alike thrilled when the Hawks' football team won game after game, and became Shelby County Champions. Basketball and track offered other moments of victory and yes—defeat. But winning or losing our teams displayed excellent sportsmanship and represented Oakhaven in a most commendable manner.

Hawks Capture

In their first year as Shelby County members, the Oakhaven Hawks, under the able direction of Coach Joe Clayton and Coach Carter Brown, captured the county by winning the championship in an undefeated season of ten games.

Scoring by the Hawks totaled 299 points against 109 points for all opposition. J. C. Brasher captured first place in individual scoring with 97 points and 1,198 yards behind him.

Recognition for the team was widespread. The Shelby County Press-Scimitar named the following boys to the All-County team: First Team: Paul Newland and J. C. Brasher; Second Team: Ralph Thornton, Mike Murphy, Randolph Loftis, Wesley Newman, and Terry Sides; Honorable Mention: Staten Grisham, James Giddens, and Tom Nabors.

Named by the Press-Scimitar as All-County were: First Team: Paul Newland, Mike Murphy, Randolph Loftis, and J. C. Brasher; Second Team: Ralph Thornton, and Wesley Newman. Newland and Brasher were named to their positions by a unanimous vote of county coaches.

Chosen by their teammates for outstanding awards were Randolph Loftis, Best Linesman and J. C. Brasher, Best Back and Best All Round Player.

The following players were awarded letters for 1960-61 season: J. C. Brasher, Paul Newland, Tom Nabors, Randolph Loftis, Eddie Hood, Ralph Thornton, James Giddens, Howard Cowgill, Staten Grisham, Ronnie Riddick, Bill Bentley, Dale Watson, Bob Verhage, Wes Newman, Terrell Sides, Mike Murphy, Frankie Ditto, Johnny Irvine, Dickie Munns, James Hood, Bennie Smith, Jimmy Haynes, Billy Smith, Bobby Wilson, Curtis Herbert, and Scale Price.

Oakhaven spectators and cheer went wild for the "Big Gun" of the Hawks. The "Grub" of them all! Whitchaven and won the championship.

Owls, Lions and Panthers

One of Oakhaven's best blockers, Frankie Ditto, proved to be a great blocker as he holds firmly against the center of MHS players.

Leading the scoring attack against Harding was Ronnie Riddick, who accounted for three touchdowns in the game won by Oakhaven 63-6.

Oakhaven's opening onslaught saw tailback Wes Newman lead the Hawks to victory over Crawfordville 19-0, with two touchdowns on runs of six and thirty-two yards. Scoring on single runs were J. C. Brasher, Terrell Sides, Tom Nabors, Bobby Wilson, and Staten Grisham.

Germantown too, was handed a sound defeat as the Hawks once again racked up 48 points against an opposer. Terrell Sides scored for Oakhaven on runs of forty-seven, forty-five, and sixty-five yards. J. C. Brasher scored on two six-yard plunges, and Wes Newman brought in runs of nine and four yards for tallies. The Hawks were gaining quite a following with their 2-0 record.

Ralph Thornton accounted for the first Oakhaven touchdown against Collierville when he caught a fifteen-yard pass from Wes Newman to score. Tom Nabors recorded the winning marker on a four yard plunge and another Shelby team bowed to the Hawks 14-6.

In one of the season's closed games J. C. Brasher marked up a third quarter touchdown over the Panthers to maintain the Hawks' winning streak, 6-0. The defensive standouts of the game were Mike Murphy and Paul Newland, who played brilliantly all season.

In their fifth contest, the Hawks smothered an out-classed Harding when fullback J. C. Brasher and tailback Ronnie Riddick led the scoring on three touchdowns each. Tom Nabors scored twice and Terrell Sides added a marker. The final whistle found the score standing at 63-6 for the Hawks.

With only four minutes gone in the game with Memphis University School, J. C. Brasher ran twenty-one yards around left end for the first of two touchdowns. His second success was on a seven-yard dash.

Fullback Eddie Hood made the extra plunge and the final score was 13-0 with Oakhaven the victors.

Against Millington, in the first quarter, Eddie Hood struck with a touchdown set up on a long drive. J. C. Brasher added the extra point after the tying score by Millington. Tom Nabors scored the third-quarter touchdown that won the game 13-6.

In the football thriller of the season, Oakhaven secured the county loop championship by defeating Whitehaven 20-7. Paul Newland scored in the first two minutes of the game. J. C. Brasher and Terrell Sides added the next twelve points and Tom Nabors ran both the singles. According to the U.P.I. poll, Oakhaven the number thirteen rating in Tennessee by ending Whitehaven's eleven year title monopoly.

Oakhaven's ninth win was brought about by three touchdowns and an extra point from J. C. Brasher, on touchdowns by Terrell Sides, by Tom Nabors. The other extra points came from Nabors and Eddie Hood. The Hawks thrilled the spectators by this absolute defeat of a Memphis team with the final score, Oakhaven 33, Kingsbury 0.

In a rather surprising game, Overton proved itself a stubborn team but was never able to top the Hawks. J. C. Brasher made two touchdowns—one on a 98 yard kickoff return—and two extra points. Tom Nabors allied with one fifty yard run and an extra point. The Hawks' season ended in a blaze of triumph as Oakhaven handed Overton a defeat of 21-13 and maintained its undefeated record.

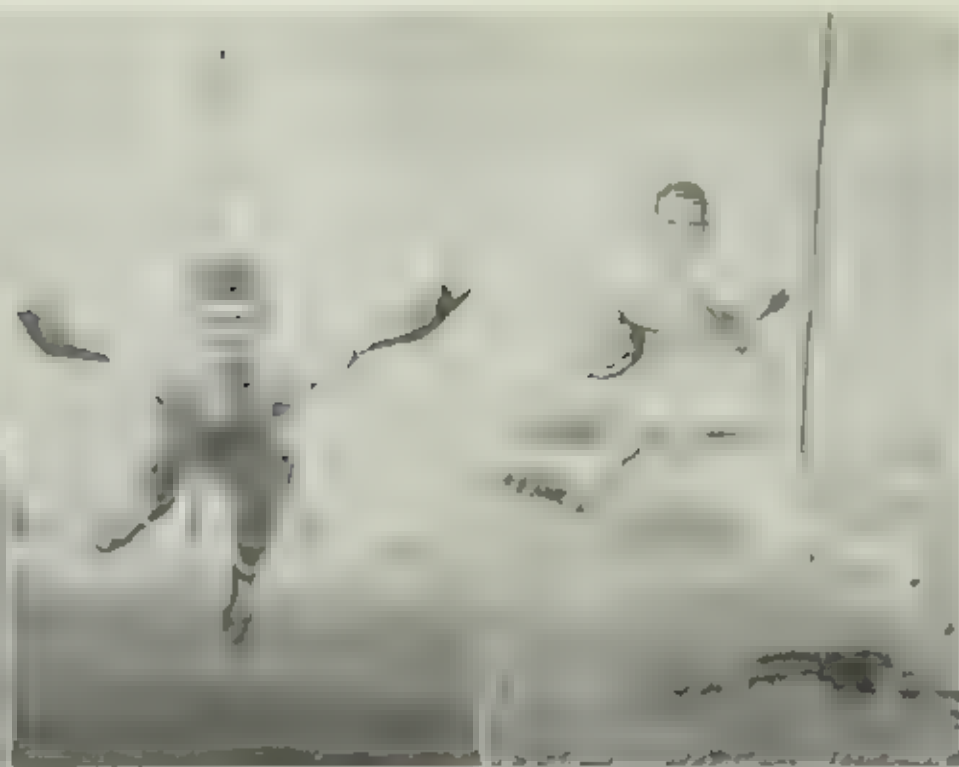

Smiling confidently, Oakhaven's varsity players board the bus to travel to Bartlett to seek another victory. They were not disappointed.

1960-61 Season

Coach Carter Brown takes special interest in the progress of each of his players. He conscientiously coaches two teams in basketball play. He was one of the first to introduce the game to the Education Department.

In the season's opener Oakhaven's eagles, led by Coach Carter Brown, came up against Frayser, a non-league opponent. Ralph Thornton led the scoring with 14 points, but the Hawks were unable to conquer a determined Frayser team. The next game found the Hawks leading Frayser, once again their opponent, at the half by a score of 20-22. Even though Eddie Hood, Ralph Thornton, Clyde Dunaway and Paul Newland delivered good performances victory eluded Oakhaven, and they bowed to Frayser 54-69. Whitehaven's Tigers were the next formidable opponents, whom the Hawks could not seem to cage. Whitehaven was victorious 68-43.

The Hawks began to show definite improvement as they played a most thrilling game against Millington. In spite of superior recovery by Murphy and Hood, the Millington team squeaked past Oakhaven 59-50. In the following game with Bartlett, Bennie Smith led the Hawks, but victory still eluded them and Bartlett won 55-46. Victory tasted sweet in the next game's win over Germantown. The Hawks managed in convincing fashion to score 67 points against Germantown's 50. Ralph Thornton was the game's leading scorer.

Encouraged, the team bravely attacked Collierville but once again an older, more experienced team defeated the Hawks, 52-47. During the first half of the game with Bolton the Hawks matched the Wildcats point for point, but stiff competition from Bolton in the last five minutes brought victory for them 57-47. Bennie Smith played brilliantly in the game.

The Hawks second victory came over Harding Academy 81-72. The team then proudly met M.U.S., Whitehaven, Millington, and Bartlett, but excellent defense from these teams brought losses to the Hawks.

Oakhaven's third win came over Germantown by a score of 69-49. The Hawks looked much better and didn't want to give up winning. They proved their abilities by defeating Coleridge and Harding by scores of 45-41 and 39-37 in the closing games of the season.

Ralph Thornton and Bennie Smith led the scoring in both these games with brilliant play. However, Boston, the league leaders, would not fall to the Hawks and won over them 60-36.

The District 35 Tournament brought a most pleasant surprise to everyone, with Oakhaven's excellent wins over Germantown and Whitehaven. Hawks fans were thrilled by outstanding play from Ralph Thornton, Bennie Smith, Mike Murphy, Stater Grisham and Jim Patis. As the annual went on, everyone eagerly awaited the outcome of Oakhaven's game in the semi-finals with Bolton. During the entire season the Hawks played commendably against many worthy opponents. Coach Carter Brown trained his team well and the boys showed wonderful spirit in victory and defeat.

Manager of the team, Billy Doner, takes care of the equipment and uniforms of the team.

Ralph Thornton tries for the basket as a member of the opposing team uselessly tries to stop him.

A Wave of Applause Goes to Fine

The team and Coach will now enter the process of the selection of the team for the New York City team which is one of the boys' team to be drafted for the team.

Under the team's watch, the team is in the process of the selection of the team for the New York City team which is one of the boys' team to be drafted for the team.

Trophies in Almost Every Meet

Oakhaven's leading high jumper, Paul Newland, placed second in the District Track meet with a winning jump of 5 feet, 6 inches.

Jimmy Haynes, Tim Nibors, Randolph Loftis, David Smith, and Bernard Hansen take winning up to a track meet very seriously.

1960-61 TRACK SEASON

The Oakhaven track team did very well in its first year. It participated in six meets this season, two of which were with Millington, two with Whitehaven, one with Frayser, and one with Bartlett. The Hawks were victorious in four of these meets. The 440-relay team placed either first or second in each meet. This four-some, consisting of Wes Newman, J. C. Brasher, Terrell Sides, and Pat Riley, placed fourth in the regional meet.

Paul Newland proved himself an outstanding player when he set the district record for the one-mile run. His record stood—4 minutes, 58 seconds.

Paul also placed third in the district high-jump. This jump was 5 feet, 6 inches.

James Hood, Hawks shotput man, proved himself an able contender.

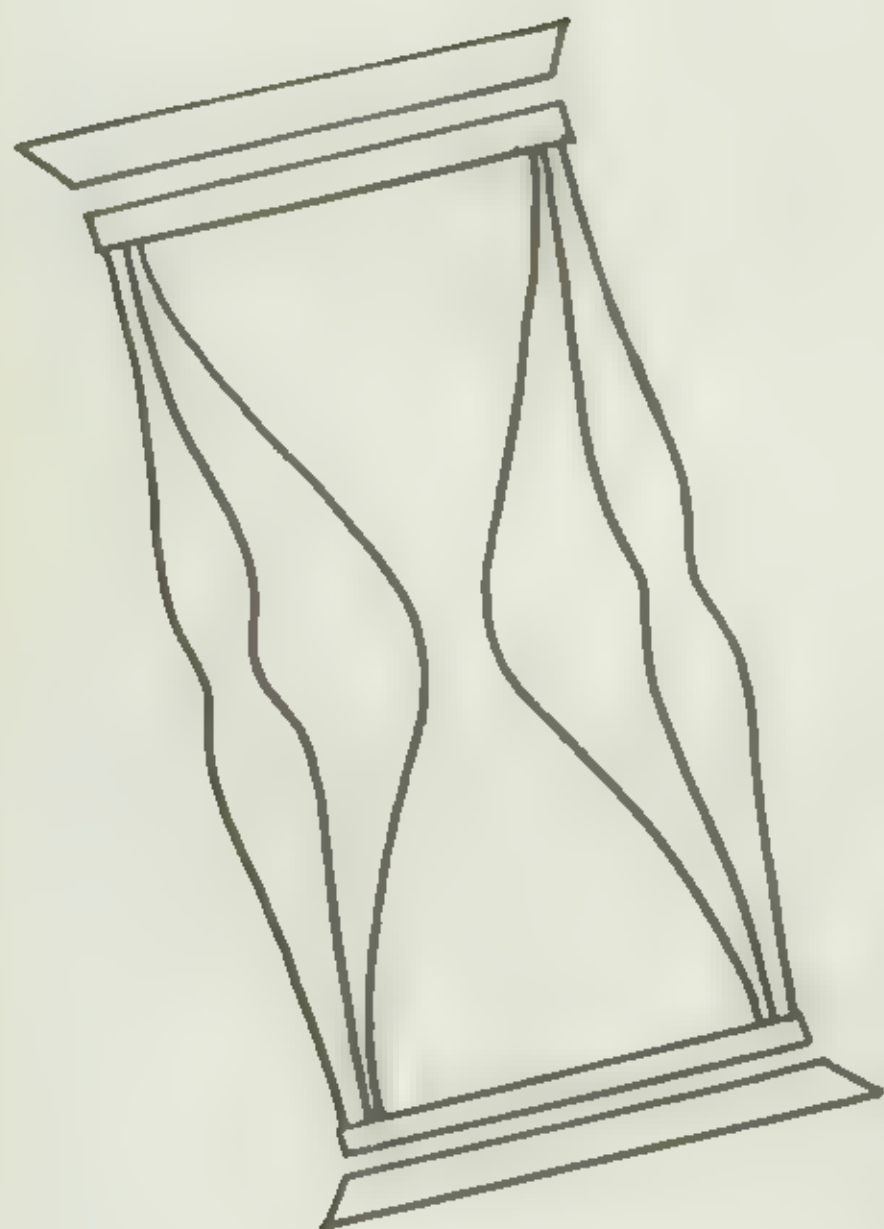

Champion miler Paul Newland set the District record at 4 minutes, 58 seconds.

Discus thrower James G. Hines follows through on a good throw.

Senior Class Of 1961

As 1961 draws to a close, Seniors remember their GOLD-EN MOMENTS. Among these cherished memories will linger the election of officers, the Shelby County Football Championship, the arrival of class rings, the exchange of calling cards, the many projects, the Junior-Senior Prom—and GRADUATION. High school days are filled with these GOLDEN MOMENTS, but even they can never surpass our cherished friends and classmates in our memories.

Oakhaven's just senior class entertained their parents at a reception early in the year. Judy Paslay and Linda Casey seem very happy to serve coffee to Mrs. James H. Grisham and Mrs. James Bramley.

Some called the Senior Car Wash work, but it was really one of the most enjoyable days of the year for these seniors.

Oakhaven's students spend many years obtaining an education in preparation for life. Studies, Activities, and Sports combine to make each Student's GOLDEN MOMENTS.

Junior Class officers, Ronnie Riddick, Treasurer; Tom Nabors, President; Trudy Thornton, Secretary, and Jackie Grisham, Vice President, seem to be quite happy over projects of the Junior-Senior Prom which their Class plans to sponsor in honor of Oakhaven's first Seniors.

A black and white photograph of a group of approximately 18 children, identified as the 1964 3rd Grade class at Oakhaven School. The children are arranged in two rows: a back row of 10 children standing and a front row of 8 children sitting on a wooden bench. They are posed in front of a light-colored building with a dark roofline. A sign in the foreground, partially obscured by the bench, reads "OAKHAVEN SCHOOL 1964 3RD GRADE". The children are dressed in mid-1960s attire, including sweaters, button-down shirts, and dresses. The overall tone is formal yet candid, typical of school yearbook photos of that era.

Mrs. Smith,
I have enjoyed
the past two years of Latin under your instructions very much. It has been fun swimming with you.

I have enjoyed

Mrs. Smith
It has been fun being in your

Mrs. Smith
I would like you to

had a wonderful time in your class.
Thank you

To the sweetest teacher at O.H.S.
You have been an inspiration to me as well as all the other students.
You have made Latin the highlight of my day. I will never forget you.
Love ya lots
Linda Sue

Mrs. Smith,

I have enjoyed being in your class these last two years and I really think you are tops.
Good Luck to a swell
teacher.

Bear Mrs. Smith,
I can truthfully say that it has been a pleasure taking Latin under your excellent teaching. But more important than the Latin I've learned are the lessons in independence and individuality you've taught me.
Your fiery spirit and snappy ways will stay with me as long as I live.
Truly yours,
Linda Sue

Maybe I 'm a "has-been" and don't know much Latin - but the years would have been dull without the infamous discussions, the great party's where we consumed gallons of ginger ale and learned the art of cards, and Jerry became a major part of my life: the summer fun filled the time with people and activity and thought - something I've held on to since. I always recommend Latin to underclassmen & tell them to take it just for the sake of having you as a teacher and comrade.

Thanks.
Bonnie Syme

Latin was grand while it lasted.
However, all good things do have to come to an end. Never again will Mike be sacrificed by the Druids. I won't forget you, Mrs. Smith.

Linda Staples

Mrs. Smith
 I sure wish you'd teach a 3rd year Latin night course. I sure like some more Latin.
 You've been a swell teacher. I'd like to see you give me a straight A.
 But why didn't you do last year, huh? I just can't understand it! Really, you been a swell senior sponsor & we all appreciate it. I'll never forget how old Latin class and those parties & the Roman banquet! Ah yes! Cava calmar!
 Paul

Best Of Luck
 To You. You HAVE BEEN A GREAT ASSET
 IN THE GROWTH OF OAKHAVEN. IT HAS BEEN A PLEASURE WORKING WITH YOU THIS YEAR.
 Jim

Mrs. Smith:
 To one of the finest Latin teachers I know. I sure enjoyed that only year you taught me. (I learned a lot) Helen Graham

Mrs. Smith
 Although I never had you for a teacher, ~~teaching~~ I admire your or true ability and I hope you have much success in your future years at Oakhaven.
 Jim

Mrs. Smith, (No Relation)

It's been great for knowing you and not having the typical teacher-student relation. By the way, your letter of recognition you wrote for me (the first one) has done wonders for me. So far, I've heard nothing from the Engineers club since they broke up quite suddenly? But I still have hopes.
 I hope the teachers at TPI are as nice to me as you have been to me and to the senior class especially.
